Career Money Life is purpose-built to empower employees from first days to last, and everything in between. Whether it's a major event like redundancy, parental leave, or retirement—or day-to-day needs such as EAP support, wellbeing resources, or upskilling opportunities—we recognise these “moments of truth” define how your people remember you and your brand. It's precisely when they need holistic, thoughtful, and human-centred support.

That's why we offer curated, flexible, choice-centric programs designed to meet employees exactly where they are—and deliver measurable results you can track. Each person can customise their own journey, selecting the services and tools that best fit their unique situation—it's never a cookie-cutter experience. We're different on purpose—because how you support your people when it matters most shapes the way they feel about you forever.

You stay in control while showing care where it matters most.

HAPPY CLIENTS

Just a quick (but huge) thank you for your continued support of our people, especially the compassion you are providing our dear NZ team at present. I have received many notes praising the support being provided. Thank you for this support and for truly changing people's lives.

Client, Career Transition Program

Career Money Life demonstrated true flexibility, scale and care during our workforce reduction. Their ability to deliver virtual support to a large and diverse group—many long-serving, blue-collar team members with varied tech confidence—was critical. The unique credits-based model offered our people more than traditional outplacement. Feedback has been positive, and we're very pleased with the experience provided.

Client, Career Transition Program

HAPPY PARTICIPANTS

The program supported exactly what I needed, when I needed it. The flexible mix of coaching, home support, educational tools, and wellbeing resources made a real difference. I can see how valuable it is for all parents experiencing parenthood for the first time or as their family grows.

Participant, Parental Program

Career Money Life's career transition program gave me practical tools, tailored guidance, and the confidence to move forward. From refining my resume to exploring new directions and strengthening my job search, every step felt supported. It's a flexible, empowering experience that meets you where you are.
